

QUAKE RECORDED AROUND THE WORLD

Seismographs of Three Continents Tell of Shock of Un-usual Severity.

IMPOSSIBLE TO DETERMINE LOCATION OF DISTURBANCE

Instruments in Many Cases Show Violence Similar to the Italian Disaster.

LONDON, Jan. 23.—The seismographs of the continent and England recorded a severe earthquake at a few minutes before 4 o'clock this morning. In some instances the intensity indicated by the needles was nearly as great as that recorded last month at the time of the Messina disaster.

INTENSITY SHOWN BY RUSSIA'S INSTRUMENTS

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 23.—The Pulkova observatory today recorded an earthquake in direction eastward at a distance of about 2000 miles, the total duration being eighty-five minutes. The first shock was registered at 4:55 a. m. and the second, which was the principal shock, at 5:48. This lasted eight minutes, the maximum tension being maintained for thirteen seconds. The vibrations stopped completely at 6:20 a. m.

WASHINGTON RECORDS INDICATE DISASTER

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—The seismographs of the weather bureau recorded an earthquake of distant origin late last evening that is much the same in character and intensity as the record reached at the time of the recent great Italian earthquake.

According to a bulletin of the bureau, the first preliminary tremors began at 10:12:05 p. m. The second preliminary tremors are not well defined in the records. The strong motion lasted from 10:30 until after 11 o'clock, the whole earthquake having a duration of about one and one-half hours. Apparently, says the bulletin, the origin is nearer Washington than in the case of the Italian earthquake, probably 4000 miles distant, or thereabouts.

The earthquake's origin was probably 6000 or 7000 miles from Cheltenham, according to the coast and geodetic survey. The survey seismograph at the magnetic observatory at Cheltenham recorded the earthquake last night. Beginning, 22 hours, 11 minutes, 32 seconds; beginning of large waves, 22 hours, 41 minutes, 18 seconds; maximum amplitude, 22 hours, 46 minutes, 48 seconds.

The greatest motion of the pointer was only about one millimeter, the actual motion of the ground being only one-tenth of that amount.

VIENNA, Jan. 23.—The seismographs at Vienna and Poland, the naval station at the Adriatic, registered very strong earthquake shocks at 4 o'clock this morning. According to the calculations of experts the scene of the disturbance was about 4000 miles distant, and if it was in a district which was inhabited, the visitation must have been disastrous.

BERLIN, Jan. 23.—The seismograph at the Geodetic institute at Potsdam registered an earthquake at 3 o'clock this morning. The concussion was nearly equal to one heard at the time of the Messina catastrophe. The observations of intensity and distance are inexact, because the instrument broke under the oscillations.

PLAUN, Germany, Jan. 23.—The seismograph at Umbersachsenberg registered an earthquake at 3:54 a. m. The location apparently is within Europe. The concussions were more violent than those recorded at the time of the Messina trouble and they lasted for twenty minutes.

HAMBURG, Jan. 23.—The seismograph here registered an earthquake at 3:55 this morning. It is estimated that the locality is 2300 miles to the eastward. The shocks lasted for nearly two hours and their violence indicates a great catastrophe.

GOETTINGEN, Germany, Jan. 23.—An earthquake of destructive dimensions was registered at the university seismograph here at 3:55 o'clock this morning. The location of the shock was apparently 2100 miles to the east, and is supposed to be in the Caspian region.

HEIDELBERG, Germany, Jan. 23.—A great earthquake was registered here at 4 o'clock this morning, nearly equal in intensity to the shock at Messina last month.

STUTGART, Germany, Jan. 23.—The seismograph here registered an earthquake this morning at 4 o'clock. In severity the record was equal to two-thirds that obtained at the time of the Messina disaster.

Alleged "Rustler" Caught.
RENO, Nev., Jan. 23.—Joseph P. Russell was arrested today on a telegraphic warrant from Sheriff Emerson of Lassen county, Cal., charging grand larceny. Russell is charged with having stolen horses, mules and cattle from various places in California. It is said Russell has forty-two head of cattle at Spanish Springs, and in Parry's boarding stable in Reno there are twelve horses and mules belonging to him. Some of the brands on the animals in the stable correspond to descriptions given in the message. Russell claims to have purchased the animals.

Disease Germs

Cannot harm healthy human bodies. We cannot have healthy bodies unless we have pure blood, —the kind of blood that Hood's Sarsaparilla makes.

This great medicine has an unequalled, unapproached record for purifying and enriching the blood. It cures scrofula, eczema, eruptions, catarrh, rheumatism, anemia, nervousness, that tired feeling, dyspepsia, loss of appetite, general debility, and builds up the whole system.

COLONEL STERRETT DELIVERS ADDRESS

The most stupendous war of modern times.

Work of the Women.
In that war the army nurse and the woman's sanitary commission performed deeds as important and often as heroic as those of the battlefield which have been enshrined in immortal song and story; and truly to her mission since that war, she has been the auxiliary and ally of the Grand Army of the Republic, the greatest military body ever organized and maintained on earth.

The women of Salt Lake City will not be found wanting when their part of the work connected with the forty-third national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic is taken up. The city's part of the work is to provide for the national encampments, she has performed an important and conspicuous part.

In September of 1907, I saw 11,000 uniformed veterans of the civil war march down Broadway in Saratoga Springs, in a torrential downpour of rain, and the matrons and maidens of that city, not to be outdone by these aged men, with bare heads and summer gowns, from which the rain fell in streams, stood along the line of march and cheered the men of '61-'65 to the echo.

During the year of 1908, the noble matrons and fair daughters of the city of Toledo, O., prepared centers of hospitality, comfort and refreshment for the vanishing army and carried them out at the forty-second national encampment in a manner so perfect as to stamp that women's work unsurpassed in the history of this country.

It was under their management, even as available, that the public ground and private residence was planted and embowered in roses and flowers which fell upon the heads of 25,000 men who averaged sixty-seven years of age as they marched over the streets and along the line of march, and to the blare of trumpet, the sound of martial music and of wind instruments for good will be everlasting.

More Good Work.
It was largely through woman's work that 42,000 school children were taught and sang eight prominent songs of the nation and largely through woman's work that 2500 school children formed and executed the most perfect living flag ever produced on this continent. Its red, white and blue undulations were as regular as the billows of the sea. It will remain a hill-top in the memory of every one who gazed upon it. The mighty chorus of these children seized on the soul with an exalted uplift as from the breath of God. Its influence for good will be everlasting.

The good people of Salt Lake City are preparing for the largest average annual gathering in the United States. The magnitude of this work is scarcely ever fully comprehended in the beginning by the host city. The executive committee which has just been formed and announced through your public press will, with twenty-three other committees, have charge of this work. I have advised that a woman's citizen committee be appointed by the executive committee, consisting of at least one member of each church society, woman's clubs, or organizations of every kind, and one from each school recommended by each of these organizations, who will, when appointed, elect their own officers and conduct all the affairs with which they are charged.

That this woman's committee will perform these duties fully up to the standard of those who have preceded them, I have an abiding confidence. I pledge myself to give the best there is in me to this work.

ONE THOUSAND BIRDS FOR POULTRY EXHIBITION

Entries for the annual exhibit of the Utah State Poultry association closed Saturday night with more than 1000 birds entered, besides a large number of pigeons. The show will be opened Monday, January 25, at 63 East Second south, and continue the entire week. The first two days will be devoted to the judging of the different birds, however, and the show will not be opened to the public until Wednesday morning. Unusual interest has been exhibited in the coming show by those who have birds to exhibit and the list of prizes and ribbons granted is larger than at any time in the history of the association. The separate owners' associations have been unusually active, especially that composed of owners of the Rhode Island Reds. The judge for the exhibit, D. T. Heimlich of Jacksonville, Ill., will arrive here Sunday and will be ready to start operations early Monday morning.

TAFT TO SET SAIL FOR PANAMA MONDAY

President-Elect Is the Honored Guest of Hospitable Charleston for Two Days.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Jan. 23.—Without possum on the bill of fare, without official pomp or ceremony, Charleston is entertaining the president-elect with southern hospitality. Charleston is doubly pleased, for not only is Mr. Taft her guest for two days, but the big cruiser North Carolina has demonstrated that there is at least "thirty feet of water over the bar," and is lying at anchor within a stone's throw of the dock, waiting for sailing orders Monday, when the president-elect and his party embark for Panama.

The Montana, a sister ship, will arrive tomorrow and is expected also to enter the harbor.

While Mr. Taft is provided with entertainment without intermission, the chief feature of his visit was a banquet to-night when his hosts were 175 of "his friends in Charleston."

The president-elect reached Charleston shortly after noon, stopping at Magnolia for luncheon and a golf game at the Country Club. It was dark when he reached his quarters in the Charleston hotel. At 7 o'clock he was receiving his dinner hosts.

She was held up to him over the heads of the crowd. Mr. Taft took the flowers and pledged his ship. This was the only incident of the trip from Augusta.

FORTY-SEVEN HEARSE CARRY UNKNOWN DEAD

CHICAGO, Jan. 23.—Forty-seven hearses, escorted by 200 policemen forming a funeral procession, today conveyed to their graves the unidentified bodies of the men who were killed in the burning of the crib in the lake last Wednesday. The funeral passed from Chicago, where most of the men lived, to Greenwood cemetery. Funeral services were held in both Protestant and Catholic churches, and many of the business places in the suburbs were closed.

NATION'S CAPITAL TO HAVE GREAT AUDITORIUM

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Nearly $100,000 was subscribed at a public meeting here today for the erection in this city of a great auditorium. The site is on Seventeenth street, Northwest, between the Corcoran Art gallery and the hall of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Thomas F.

Jury May Have Reached Bottom of the "Panama Libel Case"

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Through William Nelson Cromwell, who negotiated the Panama canal purchase, the federal grand jury, which is inquiring into the alleged libelous statements of the New York World and the Indianapolis News in connection with that transaction, today probably got at the bottom of the facts in the matter. Mr. Cromwell was under examination for two hours. He brought with him a large number of papers and these were carefully gone over. So earnest was Mr. Cromwell in his statements that at times his voice clearly could be heard in the corridors of the city hall, although nothing that he said could be understood.

He declined to make any statement beyond the fact that he was leaving for New York this afternoon.

An interesting feature of the hearing was the offering of the evidence of the original warrant for the $40,000,000 by which the government acquired title to the canal ownership. The document was framed and was brought to the grand jury room by S. R. Jacobs, a clerk in the office of the auditor of the state department.

When the grand jury adjourned until Monday it was with the understanding that no more witnesses were to appear. Mr. Cromwell was the only witness today and previous to entering the grand jury room he had an extended conference with District Attorney Baker. Mr. Cromwell brought with him a mass of papers, as did District Attorney Baker and his assistant, Mr. McNamara.

While no one would volunteer any information on the subject, it is believed that Mr. Cromwell laid bare the whole story of his connection with the Panama canal purchase, especially with that phase which had to do with the payment of the $40,000,000 to the foreign shareholders. In an interview last fall Mr. Cromwell denied that any of this money came back into American hands.

"PASTOR-PROMOTER" OF MINES LEAVES TRAIL OF DEBTS AND WOE

LONG BEACH, Cal., Jan. 23.—Many stockholders in the National Gold Dredging company, representing thousands of dollars of Long Beach capital, another of the companies organized by Dr. W. R. Price, pastor of the Psychological temple, were thrown into consternation today by the report of the executive committee appointed to report on the condition of the company's property, "being appointed as an executive committee, consisting of directors Fuller and Christie," the report says, "to proceed to your company's dredge on the American river and make a full investigation, we beg to report on arrival at their destination:

"We found a great storm raging, the dredger wrecked, badly broken up and carried down the river, with but little hope of any salvage worth recovering."

"Results of your entire mining operations: Liabilities, we find your company owing $32,000; your dredger practically worthless; your group of claims costing a little more than $1455 to purchase under an incumbrance of $4000, being a preferred claim.

"The entire results of the year's work: About one-half ounce of gold."

Already two other of the companies organized by the minister-promoter are plunged in a legal battle.

Emil Bartels, German, 20 years old, a butcher by trade, was arrested Saturday night by Police Griffiths and Carey, charged with stealing an overcoat from a Second South street saloon. Bartels, at police headquarters, admitted taking the coat, saying that he was cold and, seeing it hanging there, it looked good to him.

Beware of Imitations

Cheap Substitutes
"Just As Good As,"

Unscrupulous dealers, mindful only of profit, caring nothing for the health of their patrons, are offering for sale low-grade, impure whiskey, which they tell you is as "good as Duffy's."

It is a cheap concoction and is intended to deceive the people. Of course, when a remedy has been before the public so long, has been prescribed and used by the best doctors and in all the prominent hospitals, and has carried the blood into so many thousands of homes, as Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has, imitations are bound to arise. But they can imitate the bottle and label only.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is an absolutely pure distillation of malted barley, great care being used to have every grain thoroughly malted, thus destroying germ and producing a predigested food in the form of a malt essence. It is the most effective tonic stimulant, invigorator known to science; softens, warms and moistens, the palatability is so that it can be retained by the sensitive stomach.

Any firm that will sell imitation or substitution goods will sell impure goods. It is in dishonored in one thing: it is not honest. Whenever you see imitation and substitution goods offered for sale by any firm, you are endangering your own and the lives of your family and friends by dealing with them.

BEWARE OF FRAUDS!
Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

is sold in sealed bottles only—never in bulk. A fac-simile of the genuine label is printed here so that you may easily recognize it. It is our own patented round, amber colored and with the "Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey Company" label. The trademark—the Old Head—is on the label, and every certain this seal is not broken. It is the only whiskey recognized by doctors everywhere as a family medicine. At all druggists, grocers, dealers, etc. $1 a bottle.
